Teamster "Breakers," Discontented, Quit; HORROR ACTS IN STRIKE

Starts Rigal—Probe of Reported Brutal Attack by Non-union Driver.

District Attorney John H. Moran has begun an investigation into the alleged lawless action of strike-breakers. He is investigating charges made against one of these men by a South Boston boy with a view of having the grand jury indict the facts.

Discontent is said to reign to-day among the ranks of the strike-breakers who are taking the place of the striking teamsters on the wagons of the big trucking firms.

Twenty strike-breakers, under the leadership of Warren Transmitt, today went to the strike headquarters in South Boston and announced that they were through with the master teamsters and their work.

Warren Transmitt, addressing the cheering strikers, said:

"The balance of the strike-breakers, 220 in all, will leave the barracks in Allston to-night and join you. On Monday there has been a war. Many of us do not know the sort of work we were to do. There are no wages made for the men employed to break the strike. I will have nothing to do with these men. I will have nothing to do with these men. I will have nothing to do with these men."

Showered by Union Men.

The striking teamsters are making every effort to prevent the strike-breakers from leaving the barracks. They will be armed and fired, their wages paid by the union. They will be armed and fired, their wages paid by the union. They will be armed and fired, their wages paid by the union.

Guard for Drivers.

The teamsters got out seventy-five wagons today. Each wagon was accompanied by a driver and a guard.

A riot cell was sent in today from the New York, New Haven & Hartford freight yards, off Congress street.

TAMMANY ASSOCIATES' BALL.

Majority Stand Out for Conviction, While Small Minority Are Firmly for Acquittal—Fearful Strain Shows on All Concerned in Trial—Excited Crowd Outside Court House.

NEW YORK, April 12.—Members of the jury before whom Harry K. Thaw was tried for the murder of Stanford White continued their fight to-day to find the young man guilty. One rumor was that only three were for acquittal, while nine were for conviction for manslaughter.

The strain upon the members of the jury and the women of the family of the young prisoner had become so terrific as the noon hour approached without any sign of a verdict in the great trial that physical breakdown was expected in several instances.

The mental torture of the long waiting reached the crowd that jammed the trial room and was packed about the building. More than a thousand people gathered in Franklin street to catch a sight of Thaw through the little window as he passed over the Bridge of Sighs.

Jury Out Forty-Two Hours.

At 11:15 o'clock today the jury had been out just forty-two hours. They were in their room, and Judge Fitzgerald waited in his private room on call. Jerome, puffing a cigarette, joined the newspaper men in the corridor.

Mr. William Thaw and Mrs. Delia Thaw arrived at the court house today at 10:30. Mrs. Thaw, who was in charge of the defense, was in the courtroom. She was in the courtroom. She was in the courtroom.

JURORS IN BITTER ARGUMENT.

Before the hour for opening arguments arrived today there was talk that a discussion was probable. It was learned that the twelve men engaged in a most exciting argument in the afternoon.

DISTRICTS NOW UNITE IN GREAT BABY RIVALRY

Charlestown Mother Challenges Beauty Boast of Somerville Parents.

HUNDREDS IN CONTEST

The rivalry which has been stirred up between different districts of Greater Boston through the $1,600 Prize Baby Contest of the BOSTON SUNDAY AMERICAN is assuming the proportions of an inter-district strife, judging from the claims which parents in the different districts are putting forth regarding the respective merits of their precious babies.

While every parent naturally thinks his or her own child is the sweetest of the different neighborhoods are standing as a unit in regard to the general superiority of the neighborhood infants.

A sample of the many letters received to-day on this subject is as follows:

Editor Prize Baby Contest.

The prejudiced Mendonville parents, who have been awarded preserved some very rare, valuable, and interesting specimens, which seem to have overlooked the presence of several hundred babies right alongside of them in Charleston. The superiority of the town babies over the other infants in mind. Boston is comparable, in my mind, to the town babies of Charleston. Our own Bunker Hill monument rises in the city. Truly, is it not so?

MR. FANNIE B.

Charleston.

My child, in the BOSTON SUNDAY AMERICAN, each week, sends me photographs of five prize winners, selected by the judges from the hundreds received weekly.

On WEDNESDAY, AMERICAN is a list of all photos received, and names of babies and names and addresses in which the prize money enters the picture in this great contest.

BURNS LIVEN; DROPS DEAD

NEWBURYPORT, April 12.—With a blood spurting from his leg and a crowd of horrified spectators chasing him wildly in an effort to afford help, Charlie Wood, a chef, ran 100 yards and fell dead just as he crossed the threshold.

Wood had gone to the butcher's to get some meat, and had hardly reached the store when a varicose vein in his left foot burst.

SIGN BAD FOR MACHINE TRUST

For two days the Massachusetts Senate has done nothing but talk about whether or not to send to the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth certain questions touching on and appearing in the constitutionality of the proposed shoe machinery bill.

When the whole howl last night they were still at it. There is little else in the forecast for to-day.

GILCHRIST CLUB
ACTS 'THE WIFE'

Since a full house spells a financial success, the officers of the Gilchrist Club Benefit Association are swayed today as a result of the presentation of DeLany's play "The Wife" by their dramatic club last night at Jordan Hall.

The unanimous approval and hearty enthusiasm of the immense audience plainly expressed the dramatic success. Mr. DeLany, who is the author of the play, Mr. Akker, the leading female, and Mr. Sillars, the leading male, all were warmly applauded. The play was a good success, and the club is now planning to give a benefit for the same play at the same place.

BURLINGTON, Vt., April 12.—The case of the State against Patrick F. McLean, the former Central Vermont station agent at Burlington, in connection with the wrecking of a train at North Ferrisburgh, N. H., on Jan. 26, of this year, was not prosecuted yesterday in the Circuit Court of Vermont.

HOUSE AGAINST LAW SOLICITING

Although condemned by a number of Representatives as legislation brought only to the public service corporations and harmful to the best interests of the public at large, the House yesterday ordered in a third reading, 79 to 25, the bill reported by the Committee on Judiciary to prohibit the soliciting of employment by attorneys at law.

The fight for the bill was made by Representative William F. Tilden. In opposition Representative McKing stated that the bill was framed merely to protect the public from the soliciting of employment by attorneys at law.

It's a Girl's Own Fault If She Is Plain and Homely

By Beatrice Fairfax

O girl, be plain. Nature has been much kinder to some of her handiwork than to others in the way of bestowing regular features and beautiful complexions upon them, but the plain ones can make much more of themselves than many of them do.

Just because your hair is thin and of no particular color is no reason why you should accept the fate stupidly and make no attempt to remedy it. Nor is it the least excuse for bleaching it into a dead looking yellow, the hair which never grows on the head.

Brushing and keeping it clean are the only real remedies. Constant brushing will make it glossy and thick on the scalp. Wash it every fortnight with Castile soap and make it shine by dressing it in the neatest and most becoming manner.

No one admires bleached hair excepting a few foolish women who imagine that they are improving their looks by ruining their hair.

Careful Diet
If your complexion is muddy and greasy it is because you are not eating the proper kind of food. Get enough fresh air, drive up all day and fatty foods. Eat only what is good for you, and keep your system in good order.

Men especially admire wholesome. They like a girl to be cheerful and ready with a smile for whatever fate may send her.

I want you all to realize that health is the greatest of all things. Late hours, impure air, bad food and overwork will handicap you. You can't make a fight for good looks, and if you don't, why then you are not a successful young woman that I take you to be.

Look Happy
DON'T let the corners of your mouth droop. Of what use is a pretty complexion if it is accompanied by a peevish mouth?

Just look in the glass and say to yourself, I am not very pretty to start with, but I am about to make myself pleasant to look at.

A merry, wholesome, plain face is much pleasanter to look at than a pretty, peevish one.

Men especially admire wholesome. They like a girl to be cheerful and ready with a smile for whatever fate may send her.

I want you all to realize that health is the greatest of all things. Late hours, impure air, bad food and overwork will handicap you. You can't make a fight for good looks, and if you don't, why then you are not a successful young woman that I take you to be.
